THERE are at the present time 632 institutions doing banking business in the state of Missouri. Of these 460 are stock two private banks. The total assets of these institutions amount to 212 million dollars. They carry deposits aggregating 147 million dollars, a per capita of about $50. The solid character of these institutions has been procen during the recent period of disturbance in the monetary world. They have stood, with few exceptions, unbarried until the financial storms that have swept over this country. No bank in the state of Farm Law. There are certain points of law that govern the rights of farmers that should e known to be used as a guard against personal hability, as well as to protect gainst an infringement of rights. The question of right to fruit growing upon ranches of a tree standing upon land f one and overbanging land of another chable to raise. It is a settled princie of law that where a tree grows near boundary line and the roots extend on the land of another and derive ourishment from such land even though the branches extend over the line everhanging a neighbor's land, the entire tree is the property of him on whose land it stands, together with all the fruit thereon, and it has been decided by the courts of Vermont, Connecticut and New York that any attempt to prevent the reaching over and picking such fruit on part of such neighbor makes an actionable case of arrault and battery. In a case in New York where the daughter of the owner of a cheerry tree stood upon the divison fence and attempted to pick fruit from a limb overhanging a neighbor's land, and on being forbidden by such neighbor, persisted, the neighbor in attempting to prevent used force. but did no personal injury. On an action the court awarded, and the neighbor was obliged to pay, $1,000. Regarding the right to enter upon the land of a neighbor to secure fruit falled from over hanging branches, the law does not seem to be fully settle!, although in Massachusetts and Vermont seem to imply that such a right existed if it could be executed without injury to the neighbor. These points are probably but faintly understood by average tarmers. We judge so for the reason that we heard of a case where the fruit from everhanging branches was all Cold storage or refrigerator houses picked by means of a ladder. No trouble and cellars are coming more and more grew out of the case, sithough the two into use with extensive fruit growers, owners were at variance, but it is quite clear that the fruit being the property ONE YEAR FOR ONLY $1.50. reliance of the tree that their own of the ownes of the tree, the taking of it cellars for the storage of their apples. b. another made a clear case of theft.

Poultry For Frofit.

The American farmer has at last ac knowledged the fact that judiciously handled, there is money in poultry, and the old stigma, "Poultry don't pay," is no longer a good reason for not making the writer had with some progressive

One man, who ruises annually large rope of farm produce, has given egg arming a trail in conjunction with his ther business, and he came out ahead in the poultry. That is, for the money and time invested the fowls have made wice the amount of profit that any ther crop returned. Another farmer last winter, instead of idling the best ourt of his time away, as formers with attle pressing business are upt to de, fried his "luck," as he called it, at rais-og eggs and chicks artificially, and he as come out in fine shape. Still another 'armer pand'the interest and part of his cortgage with the ben fruit.
